

5

1. The first group of people who are interested in the results of the study are the researchers themselves. They want to know how well the study was conducted and whether the results are reliable.

2. The second group of people who are interested in the results of the study are the people who are involved in the study. They want to know how well they are doing and whether they are making progress.

3. The third group of people who are interested in the results of the study are the people who are affected by the study. They want to know how the study will affect them and whether they are getting the best results.

4. The fourth group of people who are interested in the results of the study are the people who are interested in the study. They want to know how the study is going and whether it is worth the effort.

5. The fifth group of people who are interested in the results of the study are the people who are interested in the results. They want to know how the study is going and whether it is worth the effort.